Here are some, but not limited to the following insights I have on the occult down below: (A-E)

A). The word “occult” means hidden. And to me, the occult can be anything that's secretive, unknown, suppressed, repressed, subconscious, clandestine or esoteric in nature as well as the study, knowledge, practice or use of the hidden and unknown.

B). Contrary to popular belief, the occult doesn't necessarily have to deal with religion or the supernatural not to mention the use of ouija boards, tarots cards, divination, magic, etc.

C). Contrary to popular belief, the occult isn't necessarily evil or harmful. In fact, the occult could be beneficial. Examples include the use of esoteric teachings and universal laws among other things.

D). In regards to the occult, many people think of Satanism, Paganism, Witchcraft or the New Age. However, Christianity does possess various occult elements which may stun a lot of Christians for obvious reasons not to mention deny the truth.

E). The occult is in your everyday life and it could affect it. And you may knowingly or unknowingly deal with it on a daily basis.
